IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Thomas Edgar Moore, who died Sept. 27, 1955. September brings sad memories,
Of our loved one gone to rest.
But he will always be remembered,
By friends who loved him best.

When all is still and silent,
And deep sleep forsakes our eyes,
Our thoughts are in the silent grave
Where our dear one lies.

Surrounded by friends, we are lonesome,
In the midst of joys, we are blue,
With a smile on our face we have a heartache,
Longing, dear one, for you.

God gave us the strength to face the pain,
Life will never be the same.
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
—Sadly missed by
Wife and Children.

SOIL CONSERVATIONIST ATTENDED COURSE

John H. Goin, U. S. Soil Conservation Service Conservation Aid, assigned to Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District, has just returned from Coshocton, Ohio, where he took a three-week course on Soil and Water Conservation at the S. C. S. Training Center. It is the oldest and largest center in the United States. He received training in all phases of Soil Conservation work, including engineering, agronomy, soils, forestry, biology, and cartography. This training is given to all employees to better qualify them in soil conservation work, and to enable them to give better assistance to cooperators applying soil and water conservation practices.

In the group there were men from Indiana, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, New York, Virginia, Indonesia and Turkey.

Frank E. Neely is head of the Coshocton Training Center.

OPEN HOUSE FOR LIGHTING TOUR

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Elliott Torrence, Route 2, Appomattox, will be open for inspection of improved lighting conditions, on Tuesday, September 29, beginning at 7:30 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Torrence are participating in the "Better Light for Better Living Program," which has been carried on in this county for the past two years.

Interested citizens are invited to visit the Torrence home and observe recommended lighting practices for better living.

This program is ponsored by the Virginia Council on Farm and Home Electrification with the assistance of power supply companies serving the local area, and the County Extension agents.

STUDIES BEGIN ON NEW PEST

Studies aimed at developing control measures for the "face fly," a new pest of livestock in Virginia, are beginning now at the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Sation at VPI under the direction of Entomologist E. C. Turner, Jr.

To date, most complaints have come from Bath, Highland, and Smyth Counties, and specimens of the flies have been collected for positive identification. The suspected fly is similar to the house fly, and collects in large numbers around the eyes and noses of animals in pastures. They suck available liquids and irritate the eyes so that swelling occurs and tears wet the faces of the animals.

The adult flies are found most often in bright open areas, especially on light-colored surfaces. The males especially congregate in the sun on fences, walls, or trees. They tend to leave animals when they enter buildings. Both males and females hibernate in buildings, and may gather with cluster flies which they resemble.

The VPI scientists are anxious to have reports from wherever the flies may occur. The life history of the fly has not been studied in this country, nor has the control been worked out. Cattle observed in Bath County were sprayed with Coral but still remained heavily infested, as did other cattle sprayed with a range spray containing toxaphene. Daily applications of repellents where feasible may protect the animals, the scientists say.

Congress nearing adjournment.

FOR ASC COMMITTEES SLATE OF NOMINEES

A slate of nominees for Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Community Committees has been announced by the County ASC Office. From this group Appomattox County farmers on October 7 will elect three ASC Community Committeemen and two alternate Committeemen, to serve in each community during 1960. The nominees are as follows:

Southside
Burton Carson, Edward Cheatham, Russell Cordell, E. R. Ferguson, Richard Harris, John Hunter, W. V. Jones, E. W. Marshall, Jr., James Paulette, C. S. Rush.

Clover Hill
Jack Cawthorn, Shafter Drinkard, Carl Ferguson, John Hix, Harry Jenkins, R. K. Martin, B. C. Massey, Dave Paulette, Robert Roach, Elliott Torrence.

Stonewall
W. E. Bondurant Jr., J. Rufus Burnette, Clark Lewis, Jack Martin, T. R. Martin Jr., Alton Moore, Aubrey Moore, H. B. Scruggs, Roland Smith, I. B. Wheeler.

Voting for community committeemen in Appomattox County will be by mail. Ballots will be mailed to farmers on September 30. To be counted, ballots must be returned to the ASC County Office postmarked not later than Oct. 7, 1959.

In case a farmer is eligible to vote and fails to receive a ballot, he may execute a Certificate of Eligibility at the County ASC Office. On the basis of this certificate, the county office will issue a ballot to the farmer, allow him to vote, and after the ballot is placed in the envelope and sealed, will turn it over to the Election Tabulation Board, which will pass on the eligibility and decide whether or not the vote is to be counted.
